Draw a line under the correct word from the brackets.

Ch. 1

1- A business is any organization that provides goods or services to earn (money – profit – food – power).
2- A business provides (buildings – goods – resources – money) or services to earn a profit.
3- A business provides (buildings — resources – services - money) or goods to earn a profit.
4- Converting raw materials into finished products is called (products - trading – service – manufacturing) business.
5- Buying products and reselling them to customers is called (products - trading – service – manufacturing) business.
6- Providing intangible activities or benefits to customers is called (customers - trading – service – manufacturing) business.
7- The business (surrounding – climate - weather – environment) is everything around a business that can affect its activities, decisions, and performance.
8- (Internal – External – National – Local) environment consists of the factors inside the organization affect the business.
9- (Internal – External – National – Local) environment consists of the factors outside the organization affect the business.
10- (Nano – Small – Micro – Macro) environment consists of the factors that have a direct relationship with the business.
11- (Nano – Small – Micro – Macro) environment consists of the factors that affect businesses and the economy as a whole.
12- (PESTL – PESTEL – PSETLE – PESTLE) is a framework used to analyze external factors affecting a business.

1- Write the internal environment factor presented in each of the following statements.
(Employees – Management – Organizational Culture – Financial Resources – Organizational Structure).
Organizational Structure:
1- The company has separate departments for marketing, finance, and production.
2- Managers make good decisions for the company.
3- The company has enough money to buy new equipment.
4- The company has 100 skilled employees.
5- Employees always work together and help each other.

2- Write the micro environment factor presented in each of the following statements.
(Customers – Suppliers – Competitors – Financial Institutions – Government).
1- The company buys raw materials from a local company.
2- The government requires the company to pay taxes.
3- The company gets a loan from a bank to expand its business.
4- Many customers buy the company's products every day.
5- The company competes with another company that sells similar products.

3- Write the macro environment factor presented in each of the following statements. (Political – Economic - Social – Technological - Legal - Environmental)
1- The government introduces a new minimum wage law.
2- Businesses must pay taxes according to the law.
3- Companies reduce the use of plastic.
4- Businesses use social media to promote their products.
5- Changes in education levels affect the workforce.
6- Businesses must follow consumer protection laws.
7- Changes in lifestyles affect consumer choices.
8- Businesses use renewable energy such as solar power.
9- Climate change affects agricultural production.
10- Companies must follow labor laws.
11- Businesses use computers to manage their activities.
12- Companies use artificial intelligence.
13- Economic growth increases demand for products.
14- Exchange rates affect the cost of imported goods.

15- The government supports small businesses.
16- Factories must reduce air pollution.
17- Inflation increases the prices of products.
18- Interest rates increase the cost of loans.
19- New environmental laws affect factories.
20- The government changes import policies.
21- New machines increase production.
22- Online shopping becomes more popular.
23- People become more interested in healthy food.
24- Political stability encourages investment.
25- Population growth increases demand for housing.
26- The government changes its tax policy.
27- New government regulations affect businesses.
28- Unemployment reduces people's purchasing power.
29- Water shortages affect some businesses.
30- Young people prefer online shopping.

Ch. 2

1- (Morality – Ethics – Law – Culture) one concept refers to principles of right and wrong behavior in a professional or organizational context.
2- (Business ethics – Religion – Morality – Leadership) one concept means applying moral principles to business situations.
3- (Ethics – Culture – Morality – Law) one concept refers to personal beliefs about right and wrong shaped by culture, religion, and upbringing.
4- (Legal – Ethical – Cultural – Political) one standard refers to what is morally right, even beyond what the law requires.
5- (Ethical – Cultural – Moral - Legal) one concept refers to what is required by law.
6- (Prevents fraud – Improves profits – Builds trust – Reduces costs) one benefit of business ethics is that it strengthens relationships with employees, customers, and investors.
7- (Encourages teamwork – Prevents legal issues – Increases sales – Promotes branding) one benefit of business ethics is that it helps avoid problems like fraud, discrimination, and corruption.
8- (Promotes fairness – Builds loyalty – Reduces expenses – Improves leadership) one benefit of business ethics is that it supports fair treatment and equality in the organization.
9- (Increases production – Builds trust – Improves reputation – Reduces taxes) one benefit of business ethics is that it enhances brand image and customer loyalty.
10- (Builds profits – Prevents fraud – Promotes teamwork - Encourages sustainability) one benefit of business ethics is that it supports long-term success and responsibility in business.
11- (Ethics– Social Responsibility – Profit – Leadership) one concept refers to the obligation of a business to act in ways that serve society as well as the company's stakeholders.
12- (Environmental Protection – Community Involvement – Fair Business Practices – Employee Well-being) one area of social responsibility focuses on reducing pollution and using sustainable practices.
13- (Environmental Protection – Employee Well-being – Fair Business Practices – Marketing) one area of social responsibility includes fair wages, safe workplaces, and training.
14- (Legal Compliance – Environmental Protection – Employee Well-being - Community Involvement) one area of social responsibility involves donations, volunteering, and supporting local development.
15- (Employee Well-being – Fair Business Practices – Community Involvement – Environmental Protection) one area of social responsibility includes avoiding corruption and being transparent.
16- Businesses must ensure their products are (trendy – expensive – safe – colorful).
17- Fair pricing means not (rewarding –ignoring – exploiting –confusing) customers.
18- Advertising should be (dramatic– truthful – humorous – vague) to avoid misleading consumers.
19- Companies must protect consumer rights such as privacy and (packaging – complaint handling – product design – delivery speed).
20- Good customer service ensures (satisfaction – competition – promotion –negotiation) after purchase.

1- Write the type of business social responsibility presented in each of the following statements.
(Environmental Protection – Employee Well-being – Community Involvement)
1- Employees help clean a local park.
2- The company does not pay bribes to government officials.

3- The company donates money to a local school.
4- The company helps build a community center.
5- The company pays employees fair salaries.
6- The company provides clear and honest information about its products.
7- The company provides safety equipment for workers.
8- The company provides training courses for employees.
9- The company uses solar energy to produce electricity.
10- The factory reduces the smoke released into the air.

2- Classify each of the following situations as ethical or unethical.
1- An employee tells the manager that he made a mistake.
2- A manager gives all employees the same opportunity to apply for promotion.
3- An employee hides his mistake from the manager.
4- A manager promotes a friend without considering other qualified employees.
5- A manager blames an employee for a mistake he made himself.
3. Accountability → taking responsibility
6- A manager accepts responsibility for a project that failed.
7- A company clearly tells customers about the price and conditions of a product.
8- A manager listens to employees' opinions and treats them politely.
9- A manager insults an employee in front of other employees.
10- A company wastes large amounts of water without considering future needs.
11- A company hides important information about a product from customers.
12- A company follows workplace safety laws.
13- A company ignores safety laws to reduce costs.
14- A company donates money to help a local school.
15- A company dumps waste in a public area without caring about the community.
16- A company reduces its use of water to protect natural resources.

Ch. 3

1- Entrepreneurship is the process of (destroying – copying – creating –ignoring) a new business to achieve profit and growth.
2- Entrepreneurship drives (innovation – imitation – isolation – inflation) and stimulates economic development.
3- A key trait of successful entrepreneurs is (laziness – resilience –hesitation – routine).
4- Entrepreneurs help the economy by (reducing demand – increasing taxes – filling market gaps – limiting choices).
5- Entrepreneurship helps the economy by (reducing salaries – creating jobs – increasing imports – limiting workers).
6- A new venture is a startup created to bring (innovative ideas – old traditions – copied products – outdated services) to market.
7- A small business is an independently owned firm that is not (powerful – dominant –global – expensive) in its industry.
8- A small business is (jointly – publicly – independently –government) owned and operated.
9- (Sole Proprietorship – Partnership - Private Corporation – Private Limited Company) one type of private enterprise is owned.
10- (Private Limited Company – Sole Proprietorship – Partnership – Private Corporation) one type of private enterprise is owned by two or more partners.
11- (Private Corporation – Private Limited Company – Partnership – Sole Proprietorship) one type of private enterprise is owned by shareholders but not listed on the stock exchange.
12- (Private Limited Company – Sole Proprietorship –Partnership – Private Corporation) one type of private enterprise refers to larger private firms, sometimes multinational.
13- Market feasibility involves studying (demand – location – equipment – laws) to see if there is a real need for the product or service.
14- Financial feasibility includes estimating (team size – product design – legal risks – startup costs).
15- Organizational & legal feasibility checks the (packaging – customer feedback – business structure – advertising style).

1- Write the type of private enterprise represented in each of the following statements.

(Sole Proprietorship – Partnership – Private Limited Company – Private Corporation)
1- A large company is owned by a small group of private shareholders, and its shares are not sold to the public.
2- Ahmed and Ali open a restaurant together and share the profits.
3- Ahmed owns a small grocery store by himself.
4- Three people start a small company, and each person owns part of the company.

2- Write the type of feasibility study represented in each of the following statements.
(Market Feasibility – Technical Feasibility – Financial Feasibility – Organizational Feasibility – Legal Feasibility).
1- Are skilled workers available?
2- Are the business contracts legally valid?
3- Can management handle the project?
4- Does the business have enough employees?
5- Does the business need a special license?
6- Does the project follow government laws?
7- How much money is needed to start the project?
8- Is the necessary equipment available?
9- Is the organizational structure suitable?
10- Is the required technology available?
11- Is there enough demand for the product?
12- What are the expected costs?
13- What are the expected profits?
14- Who are the customers for the new product?
15- Who are the main competitors?

Ch. 4
1- International business refers to all (domestic - financial - commercial - cultural) activities that take place across national borders.
2- International business includes (importing - investing - exporting - all of the above).
3- Globalization is the process of increasing (interconnection - inflation - separation - taxation) among countries, businesses, and people.
4- Germany, and Japan are considered (emerging - frontier - developed - informal) markets.
5- Egypt are example of (developed - emerging - frontier - saturated) markets.
6- Smaller, less developed economies are known as (emerging - frontier - developed - advanced) markets.
7- Trade agreements help countries do business with each other by reducing (exports - inflation - wages - tariffs).
8- Alliances usually mean strategic (partnerships - investments - competitors - barriers).
9- A trade surplus occurs when a country's (imports - exports - taxes - debts) are greater than its imports.
10- A trade deficit means that a country is importing (less - equal - more - none) than it exports.
11- A trade deficit may lead to (growth - surplus – savings - borrowing) or inflation.
12- Exchange rates determine the (value - interest - inflation - GDP) of one currency compared to another.
13- A floating exchange rate is (fixed - pegged - floating - regulated) by market forces.
14- A fixed exchange rate is (tied - floating - influenced - changed) to another currency.
15- A strong currency makes (exports - inflation - imports - interest) cheaper.
16- A weak currency makes (imports - exports - inflation - savings) more competitive.
17- Foreign Competition means that businesses face competition from (local firms - government agencies - international companies - small shops) offering similar products.
18- Governments may use (tariffs - exports - inflation - tourism) to protect local industries.
19- One challenge of foreign competition is (inflation - unemployment - price wars - taxation).
20- One challenge of foreign competition is (inflation rate - currency exchange - population growth - innovation pressure).

1- Read each example and identify the correct type of international business activity or arrangement. (Importing - Exporting – investment – Partnership - Global marketing - World Marketplaces - Trade Agreements – Alliances)
1- Egypt and another country sign an agreement to reduce taxes on imported and exported goods.
2- An Egyptian company sells its products to customers in different countries.
3- An Egyptian company sells cotton to Italy.

4- An Egyptian company buys coffee from Brazil.
5- An Egyptian company and a Saudi company work together to open a restaurant in Egypt.
6- An Egyptian airline and a European airline cooperate to offer better services to international travelers.
7- A Japanese company builds a factory in Egypt.
8- A company sells its products through an international online platform that connects buyers and sellers from different countries.
9- A company promotes its products in Egypt, France, and Japan through international advertising campaigns.

2- Read each example and identify the correct international business or economic term. (Import Export Balance - Trade Surplus - Trade Deficit - Inflation - Exchange Rate – Floating - Fixed/Pegged).
1- The value of a country's currency changes according to supply and demand in the foreign exchange market.
2- Prices of food, clothing, and transportation increase continuously over a year.
3- One US dollar is exchanged for 50 Egyptian pounds.
4- A country maintains its currency at a fixed value against another currency.
5- The difference between the total value of a country's exports and imports.
6- A country imports goods worth $200 million and exports goods worth $120 million.
7- A country exports goods worth $150 million and imports goods worth $100 million.

Ch. 5

1- Write the correct management function represented by each of the following examples. (Planning – Organizing – Leading – Controlling).
1- Setting the company's goals for the next year and deciding how to achieve them.
2- Motivating employees and guiding them to achieve the company's goals.
3- Comparing actual performance with planned goals and correcting mistakes.
4- Assigning tasks to employees and dividing the work among departments.

2- Write the correct manager level represented by each of the following examples. (Top – Middle – First-line). (Top – Middle – First line).
1- A manager implements strategies, coordinates departments, and manages departmental activities.
2- A manager sets organizational objectives, develops strategies, and makes major decisions.
3- A manager supervises employees, assigns daily tasks, and monitors performance.
4- A Chief Marketing Officer (CMO) develops the company's overall marketing strategy.
5- A CEO sets the company's long-term goals and makes major decisions.
6- A Chief Financial Officer (CFO) develops financial strategies for the company.
7- A Chief Operations Officer (COO) makes decisions to improve overall operations.
8- A Financial Manager prepares departmental budgets and coordinates financial activities.
9- A Marketing Manager coordinates the marketing department and implements company strategies.
10- A Marketing Supervisor assigns daily tasks to marketing employees and monitors their performance.
11- A Production Supervisor assigns tasks to production workers and checks product quality.
12- An Accounting Supervisor assigns daily tasks to accounting employees and monitors their performance.
13- An Accounting Supervisor checks daily accounting tasks and guides accounting employees.
14- An HR Director makes major decisions about the company's human resources.
15- An HR Manager manages recruitment and employee training activities.
16- An HR Supervisor monitors employee attendance and supervises daily HR activities.
17- An IT Manager manages the IT department and implements technology plans.
18- An IT Team Leader supervises IT employees and ensures that daily tasks are completed.
19- An Operations Manager coordinates production and daily operational activities.

3- Write the correct basic managerial skill represented by each of the following examples. (Technical skills – Human/interpersonal skills – Conceptual skills – Decision making skills – Communication skills).
1- Comparing different alternatives and choosing the best solution to a problem.
2- Explaining work instructions clearly to employees.
3- Motivating employees and resolving conflicts among team members.
4- Understanding how different departments work together to achieve company goals.
5- Using accounting software to prepare financial reports.